Authorized Projects with Chief’s Reports and Project Studies

The Water Resources Development Act (WRDA) of 2020 authorizes projects and studies in states marked in the map below. However, while most states have projects authorized in WRDA, the projects’ impacts extend beyond state borders and provide regional and national benefits. These projects help strengthen the Nation’s global competitiveness, grow the economy, move goods throughout the country and abroad, protect communities, and create jobs.

A more detailed interactive map of authorized projects and studies is available here.
